Elnusa Wins Pertamina RU IV Appreciation for the Success of the Turn Around Project

Jakarta, February 11, 2020 - PT Elnusa Tbk (Elnusa), a leading company providing energy services, is exploring various opportunities to expand its service business. One of them is to start working in services operation & maintenance at oil refineries with a service unit turn around project. For this work, Elnusa won the trust and won appreciation of PT Pertamina (Persero) in the Refinery Unit IV working area, Cilacap, Central Java for its success.

Elnusa's Head of Corporate Communications - Wahyu Irfan said, "job turnaround This refinery is one of our exploration of new businesses in this segment midstream oil and gas. We are grateful to have the confidence of this job. This appreciation is proof of the quality of the services we provide. "

Oil refinery turnaround work is part of routine maintenance activities. Generally done within 3-4 years. The aim is to restore the condition of the refinery to its initial state so that it can operate optimally. In addition, turn around activities also need to be carried out to fulfill the obligations stipulated in the oil and gas law.

Elnusa's role in this work is to perform maintenance on the unit residual fluidized catalytic cracker or RFCC. This unit functions to process the residue into avtur. Apart from this maintenance work, Elnusa also supports various other mechanical jobs, such as fabricating and installing supporting structures, checking equipment, testing, commissioning and startup.

"This service expansion is a proof of the superiority of total solution services that Elnusa has. Armed with complete service competencies from upstream to downstream oil and gas, we believe we can provide the best oil and gas services for this country, "added Wahyu.

Elnusa Total Solution Services is a series of services offered by Elnusa to solve client problems comprehensively. In contrast to the current general service which is carried out partially, so it takes a longer time with a higher price. Elnusa Total Solution Services is our answer to the dynamics of the oil and gas industry and the challenges of clients in providing better, faster and more competitive services. ***
